TO THE PUBLIC.

It will gratify the many friends and customers of the house of Petty & Jones to know that its affairs are in sound and healthy condition.

They have always, are now doing, and will continue to pay one hundred cents in the dollar, (100 cents to $1).

They claim praise for doing so, in a time of such financial stringency, insolvency, and compromise.

They set their faces like flint to do this as a matter of high commercial principle

They are doing a largely increasing and increased business.

Their JOBBING TRADE has showed a large advance.

They have sold more goods by the case, package, and piece, the past season than ever before.

The management is strictly on the plan of the large and successful dry goods houses of our large cities.

They buy often At first hands. Pay cash and are receiving new goods every week.

They will from this time be in receipt of a varied assortment of select goods of the best makes suitable for the market to which they invite the attention and inspection of buyers, wholesale and retail.

THE CITY.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

——Trade continues good.

——Alligators are now sent by mail.

——Revenue collections yesterday $284.27.

——'Tis the first fly of summer found buzzing alone.

——How the women would crave for calico were it $5 a yard.

——The sheriff will sell the property of delinquents on the 7th of April.

——Regular meeting of the Raleigh Chapter, No. 10, to-night. Members be prompt. Business of Importance.

——There wouldn't have been any milk in the cocoanut if some of our dairymen had had the original construction of it.

——The Governor on yesterday appointed Wm. Boylan Esq., a director of the Insane Asylum vice Dr. S. G. Ward resigned.

——Walton, Whann & Co., of Baltimore, have taken out a fertilizer license and kindly remitted check for $500—for the privilege.

——The Sunday School Hall of the Edenton street M. E. Church is nearly completed. It is a large shapely frame building 100 feet deep and 45 feet wide with a seating capacity of 750.

——Miss Powell has gone North to make her spring purchases, and upon her return will open a splendid stock of millenery at her old stand on Fayetteville street.

——Mr. Wm. Woolcott, one of the thriving business men of Wilmington street, is still keeping pace with all that is late in style and low in price. We were surprised to learn that he is doing a business of $60,000 annually.

——A book agent was knocked down by the Yarboro 'bus' the other day and two wheels passed over his cheek. The 'bus has been repaired and is in charge of that prince of clever fellows Peyton Brown.

——"Marriage," says a cynic, "is like putting your hand into a bag containing ninety-nine snakes and one eel. You may get the eel, but the chances are against you."

——The Second Presbyterian Church is fast approaching completion, The style of architecture is different from any in the city. It is a very handsome frame structure and will be completed in about six weeks.

——"Ah, yes," said Mrs. Partington on the 22d of February, as she watched the military pass by: "Ah, yes, Washington is dead, and the worst of it is that his mantelpiece don't seem to have fallen on any man now living."

——That pushing business house, Rand & Barbee Bros. scared 850 barrels of flour, as their sales for the week ending Friday march 14th, and it wasn't a good week for selling flour either. Our columns are open to the field.

——In a few short weeks the mistress of the house will be climbing up to the top of tables and chairs, and reaching with all her might to brush the dust from the ceiling that she lacks just a little bit of being able to reach.

——Talking about guano, the enterprise of Latta & Myatt in this line, is worth mentioning. On yesterday they shipped four car loads of the "L & R" and five tons and a half were carted out of their warehouse. Those who don't know it, will no doubt be glad to learn that this much guano amounts to 90,000 pounds.

——The Goldsboro Messenger gives the full particulars of a sad homicide which occurred in that place on last Monday. It appears that two boys, John W. Edmundson and Duncan Johnson, aged respectively 16 and 17 years, had a quarrel over a game of marbles some time previously, and meeting on a vacant lot with no witness fought it out, resulting in death of young Edmundson, being hit on the head with a piece of wood by Johnson. The latter was arrested, tried before Mayor Griswold and bailed in $7,50.

REVENUE SEIZURE.—Deputy Marshals Martin and Moore on Saturday last, seized a still containing 40 gallons of beer, a few miles north-west of Morrisville in this county. The owner has not yet been found.

Hon. S. F. Phillips registered at the Yarboro yesterday. He is from Chapel Hill where he has been on a visit to relatives for the past week. He leaves to day on his return to Washington City.

Mr. A. D Brooks Enrolling Clerk of the General Assembly leaves this morning for Baltimore, where he expects to remain a few weeks. We failed to learn her name.

THE RINK.—work on the skating rink is progressing rapidly. Ten men have been employed for the past ten days to remodel, re-floor and renew generally the old hall. The work has been well done and the old rink is not recognizable. The floor is as firm and "slick as ice" and when waxed will be "perfectly splendid." The management expect to open regularly on Monday night next.

A LANDSLIDE INTO MUDCUT.—The NEWS learns from a member of the Legislature who has just returned from Henry station that another and a serious landside into the famous "mudcut" took place on Friday as a train of cars were passing, covering up a portion of the train. Fortunately no lives were lost, and a large force was immediately put to work to dig out the buried cars.

DEATH OF WM. H. HAYWOOD.—The death of this young man on Sunday morning was unexpected to his many friends of this city. He had been suffering for a week or more with pleropneumonia but it was thought that he would recover and not until Saturday was his disease considered dangerous as to cause fear of recovery. Late Saturday evening his strength began to fail and he gradually sank, expiring Sunday morning at 4 o'clock. His funeral took place from the Church of the Good Shepherd yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, and his remains were interred in Oakwood Cemetery.

THAT BILL.—Speaker Mording was called back to the city Sunday and President Robinson who was to have left on that day, remained over to confer about the school law bill which, as stated in Sunday's NEWS, was not signed by the respective officers of the House and Senate. After conference with the leading lawyers in the city they determined that while they had the power to sign the bill and make it a law, yet it would be setting a precedent; that there was but one change in the old law of any consequence, the increase of the school tax from 8 1-3 to 10 cents; that no public official ought to exercise a doubtful power, unless in some overpowering emergency. The general opinion is that theyacted wisely in declining to sign the bill.

GOLD WATCH PRESENTATION.—The officers of the Deaf and Dumb and Blind Institute on yesterday presented Mr. D. C. Dudley with a handsome gold watch as a testimonial of their high regard and as an expression of their regrets at his departure from the post he has so long and acceptably filled with them as teacher of the Institute. The presentation was made in a graceful manner by the principal, Capt. H. A. Gudger, as follows:

MR D. C. DUDLEY: You have been connected with the North Carolina Institution for the Deaf and Dumb and the Blind for fifteen years. For eight years of this period you have been principal teacher in the Deaf Mute Department. You have discharged your various duties satisfactorily to those in charge of the Institute, and in a manner that has, in a high degree, reflected credit upon yourself. One of your characteristics is your devotion to duty. Energy and promptness have also marked your conduct. Above all, your exemplary christian character, your moral worth have endeared you to those with whom you have associated.

From your present labor you go to a higher and more responsible position That success will crown your efforts in your new field, we have not the slightest doubt.

It is with feelings of sadness commingled with those of pleasure that we part with you.

In behalf of the officers of this Institution with whom you have been so long and pleasantly associated, and as a slight token of their respect and esteem for you, I have the honor of presenting you this watch.

This is not done for ostentation or show, but because of your real worth, we all thinking that your past services have been such as to merit this exhibition of our appreciation of your course.

We are assured that in the future as in the past the guiding principles that control your life will be virtue, strict adherence to duty, and allegiance to Him who has always been so kind to you."

Mr. Dudley made his acknowledgements as follows:

"In response, my dear friends, to what our worthy principal in your behalf has just said, I desire to assure you that I very highly appreciate this new token of your affectionate regard and esteem.

This, I am sure is one of proudest moments of my life—one that I have often looked forward to with bright anticipation and one to which I shall often look back to inspire me in the coming years—one to fill my heart with gratitude for the past and hope for the future.

This beautiful and appropriate present that you have made me, is a representative of time—time that has heretofore led us in sweet communion along the journey of life—time that brings us together to-day with conflicting emotions of gladness and sorrow stirring our hearts—time that will soon bear us to the points whence our courses in life diverge.

We know not what awaits us; whether our life—bark shall sail over the calm, unruffled sea of the past, or be opposed by the tempestuous storm-tossed ocean of adversity; but we do know that with the compass of Faith and our eye fixed upon the Star of Bethlehem we shall finally cast anchor in the heavenly harbor of rest and peace and enter up "through the gates into the city."

I shall wear this beautiful and valuable gift of yours next my heart in token of the affection I will ever cherish for you the friends of my youth and early manhood, and every time I consult it the scene of this morning shall be brought vividly before me inspiring me to press onward and upward, to strive to reflect credit upon my native State, and to prove worthy of the great confidence and honor you have conferred upon me.

The addresses of the occasion were interpreted to the deaf-mute part of the audience by Mr. John E. Ray.

Mr. Dudley will leave for Louisville, Ky., to-morrow and will enter at once upon his duties as principal of the Ky. Institute for the Deaf and Dumb.

The Late Judge Battle.

FUNERAL CEREMONIES—FROM CHAPEL HILL TO RALEIGH—IN STATE YESTERDAY—THE LAST SAD RITES.

The funeral ceremonies of the late Judge Battle were begun in Chapel Hill, the place of his death, on Sunday. Services were held in the University Chapel at 5:30 o'clock in the morning. The remains were then taken in charge by a committee of three professors, three students and three citizens, who had been previously appointed by meetings held Saturday in respect to the memory of the distinguished dead.

On entering Durham the body was met by about 150 citizens and escorted to the depot to await the train. A committee of eight was selected to accompany the body to Raleigh. They were, Julian S. Carr, Col. R. F. Webb, N. A. Ramsey, Geo. D. Miller, Thos. A. Day, J. G. Ward, Maj. Thos. Blacknall and S A. Dickson. At Raleigh they were met with a delegation of the Bar, among whom were Maj. Gilliam, Col. R. B. Peebles, Capt. S. A Ashe, E. R. Stamps, E q., and others, who formed an additional escort and accompanied the remains to the Capitol where they were to lie in State until the hour of burial. As the hour of 5 in the evening approached the crowd began to gather in Christ Church and when the remains were escorted from the Capitol, the church was filled to its utmost. The casket was covered with exquisite wreathes and crosses which had been furnished from the choicest hot beds in the city.

The following were the pall bearers as seen on entering the south gate of Christ Church: Chief Justice Smith, Maj. W. H. Bagley, Justice Ashe, Hon. Geo. V. Strong, Hon. D. G Fowle, Hon. A. S. Merrimon, Hon. T. S. Kenan, Maj. A. M. Lewis, W. S. Mason, Esq., Hon. W. R. Cox and Hon Jos. B. Batchelor.

In the church, service was conducted by Rev. Ed. R. Rich, Rector of the Church of the Good Shepperd, Rev. Jos. B. Cheshire, Rector of the Chapel of the Cross, Chapel Hill, N. C., and Rev. M. M. Marshall, D. D., Rector of Christ Church.

After the service the funeral procession formed and proceeded to Oakwood Cemetery the members of the Bar forming a part of the train and marching two abreast immediately in the rear of the relatives of the deceased, the procession comprised of twenty-eight carriages and was accompanied by a large number of the citizens, among those present we noticed, the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Judges of the Supreme Court, and other State officials.

THE YADKIN VALLEY RAILROAD.—Messrs. York, Counsil and Harrell who, were noticed in the NEWS as having gone to Baltimore to confer with the Ore Knob Copper Company in regard to the Cape Fear and Yadkin Valley Railroad scheme, passed through the city Sunday on their way home. A NEWS man fell in with these north westen North Carolinians and talked about the matter that deeply concus to the section so ably represented by those gentlemen. They left Raleigh in President Robinson's elegant private car and enjoyed the hospitalities of that prince of railroaders to Norfolk, where they stepped aboard the elegant Bay Line Steamer "Carolina."

The passage to Baltimore was very much enjoyed by these clever mountaineers. They were at home in Baltimore. North Carolinians always find a warm welcome there. The town is full of such zealous Tar Heels as Dr. Boyken, and the irrepressible Beasley. They were regally entertained by the Ore Knob company whose guests they were. They found there Mr. Clayton, the able manager of the Ore Knob Company, whose residence at the mines in Ashe county has made him a good North Carolinian, and who, though a very young man, is one of the most successful operaters in the country. His management of the Ore Knob Company has been eminently successful and stamps as one of the brightest men the mining records of North Carolina has ever produced.

The O. K. Company, of the full and free confidence, agreed to further the scheme with both their money and their patronage. Their freight, which is now diverted from North Carolina over a Virginia Railroad would build the road. Our north-western friends go home very hopeful. "At last" said Dr. York, our North Western section, so long neglected, a section so rich in resources and so extensive in domain, is beginning to see day-light." Our man shook cordially these horney-handed representatives of the Yadkin Valley in congratulation and farewell.

ESCAPED.—Wyatt McReives McKimsey escaped from Rockingham county jail on March 10th. He is about 6 feet high, weighs about 160 lbs, slender in form, youthful appearance, has a coarse voice, short black hair and black eyes, fair face from confinement went off with shackles on and a 16 shooter Henry rifle, had on boots without heels, dash spotted casimere pants and no coat. A reasonable reward will be paid for his apprehension.

The Legislature.

PRESS COMMENTS.

Charlotte Observer.

We repeat that this General Assembly has done fairly well. Much legislation which we earnestly desired to see accomplished, was brought before it and failed, but much that was important and of practical benefit was perfected. Much worse bodies have assembled at Raleigh in a legislative capacity, even as better have assembled there, and it has no more than truth to say that the one just adjourned will compare respectably with the majority of them. It has done some things that will cause it to be remembered with gratitude, and its errors were such, generally speaking, as will do little harm and soon be forgotten.

Washington Star.

Our Senator, Mr. Bryan, of Pender, endeavored to amend the revenue bill by taxing dogs running at large $1, but the Solons of the Senate were afraid of their popularity and voted it down.

The Watch Tower—Statesville.

Col. Clark and the "Investigating Committee" are "doing up Raleigh." The General Assembly don't seem to be very popular Col. Clark's article in the Observer is a strong paper and will be generally endorsed.

The University.

A GRAND COMMENCEMENT PROGRAMME. Chapel Hill Ledger.

The University Commencement of 1879 must be a success. The Societies, Seniors and Alumni have all been very successful of their choice of orators and other officers, and the arrangements which are already being made insure against the possibility of a failure. As the readers of the Ledger have already been informed, the Philanthropic Society, upon whom devolved the duty of electing the Commencement orator for 1879, have selected for the honorable position the distinguished U. S. Senator from Ohio, Hon. Allen G. Thurman, at present the most prominent Democratic candidate for the Presidency in 1880. This eminent gentleman has accepted the invitation and will deliver the annual address on Wednesday morning of Commencement week, which falls on June 4th.

The Alumni Association has also chosen one of their ablest members to deliver an address before the association on Wednesday afternoon of the same day. The gentleman referred to is Hon. Samuel F. Phillips, Solicitor-General of the United States who for legal ability and literary attainments is one of the most eminent men in the Union.

But these are not all. The Seniors whose duty it is to elect a divine to deliver the Baccaulaureate sermon, have chosen for that position the Rev. Moses D. Hoge, D. D., one of most eminent Presbyterian divines in the South. He, likewise, has accepted the invitation and will deliver a sermon before the graduating class sometime during Commencement week not yet decided upon by the authorities.

We see, then, that visitors to our Commencement will thus have the rare opportunity of listening to three of the ablest orators to be found South or West, all in the short space of two days. Besides this rare opportunity, the pleasure of meeting friends and hearing the Ciceros of the the future will be sufficient to amply repay for the slight inconvenience sustained by those coming to the Commencement.

No Home but has some Darling There.

Longfellow never wrote more truthful or touching poetry than that inspired poem entitled "Resignation:"

"There is no flock however watched and tended,
But one dead lamb is there;
There is no fireside, howso'er defended,
But has one vacant chair.

"The air is full of farewells to the dying,
And mourning for the dead;
The heart of Rachel for her children crying,
Will not be comforted.

What family is there that does not find his complement in one or more who dwell on the hither side of the river amid the glory inffable? What family is there that holds not a broken harp, the string of which was once swept by little fingers, now make music in the heavenly choir?

We know that "it is well with the child." But that does not fill the void. We know that the Father doeth all things well, but there is a river that separates the pet and idol and joy of the household from us, and we know that it will never be crossed from the hither side. The silver cord has been snapped and it will never be reunited on this side. Put away sacredly the little remembrances; they will never be called for. Tears are the gift which love bestows upon the memory of the absent, and they will avail to keep the heart from suffocation.

How Pierpont must have suffered before he gave voice to that sad refrain:

"I cannot make him dead!
His fair sunshiny head
Is ever bounding round my study chair;
Yet when my eyes now dim,
With tears I turn to him,
The vision vanishes—he is not there!

I walk my parlor floor,
And, through the open door,
I hear a foot fall on the chamber stair,
And I am stepping toward the hall,
And I give the boy a call;
And then bethink me that—he is not there!"

Well, well! It is for some good purpose that the little human angels of the household come and go. God knows all about it; we do not.

A Boy's Good Deed.

"Well, my boy," said a father to his eight-year-old son the other night, "what have you done to-day that may be set down as a good deed?" "I gave a poor boy a penny," replied the young hopeful. "Ah, ah, that was charity, and charity is always right. He was an orphan boy, was he?" "I didn't stop to ask," replied the son; "I gave him a penny for licking a boy who called me names."

Gun and Locksmiths.

Brockwell & King, near the rear of the U. S. Court House, on Salisbury street, are prepared to repair in first-class style, Breech-loading and Muzzle-loading Shot Guns and fire arms of every description. They also repair Door Locks, Trunk Locks, and locks of all patterns, Umbrellas, Parasols, Fluting Machines, and everything in the line of small hardware, either brass, steel or iron. Sign and Bell hanging a specialty. Orders from a distance will receive special attention. Keys fitted at residences on short notice. All work warranted.

Wood.

Get your wood of J. D Whitaker, at his yard at the western terminus of Hargett street. The pine wood which is cured by him in his special way is equal to oak, at considerable less cost to the consumer. His oak is the very best.

Pritchard & Brooks.

Have another lot of that elegant oak and hickory wood on hand, cheap for cash. Also, car load of bolted meal: salt, potatoes, bulk meat, fresh eggs and chickens, sugars of all grades, coffees and teas—at prices to suit the hard times.

The Labor Question.

This is one of the oldest questions known to political economy. The warfare between capital and labor has been going on for the last 4,000 years more or less and still raging. For bad blood take Rosadalis, the great Southern Remedy. Warranted to cure all scrofulous humors, erruptions, &c., and cleanse the system of all impurities.

The Special Session of 1841.

N. Y. Mail.

Thirty-eight years ago a special Session of Congress was called by President Harrison. He did not live to see the Congress he convened. It was a remarkable body; full of various ability and containing many men who were either famous at the time, or who afterwards became so, either through good luck or because of their own merits. In the Senate was George Evans, of Maine, who, in his time, was regarded as only inferior to Webster, as a Constitutional lawyer; a man of great gifts and learning, but rather indolent and neglectful of his opportunities. From New Hampshire there were two Senators who, in different ways, achieved national fame. One was Franklin Pierce, afterwards President of the United States. The other was Levi Woodbury who became known as one of the ablest Justices of the Supreme Court of the United States. One of the Senators from Massachusetts was Rufus Choate—the most brilliant, peculiar and original of men. He was out of his proper sphere in the Senate, and was often outgeneraled by far inferior men.

New York was well represented in the State Senate, having Silas Wright and N. Talmadge. One of the Senators from Pennsylvania was James Buchanan, the last Democratic President of the United States. It must be said that he appeared to much greater advantage in the Senate than he did in the White House. Delaware was well represented, in part, by Richard H. Bayard, uncle of the present Senator whose family had no longer a representation in the Senate than any other in the country. William C. Rives, afterwards Foreign Minister, was one of the Senators from Virginia—an elegant and accomplished gentlemen. One of the Senators from North Carolina was Mr. Graham, who afterwards was the Whig candidate for the Vice-Presidency, on the same ticket with Gen. Scott. South Carolina was far more ably represented, having Wm. C. Preston and John C. Calhoun as Senators. From Alabama was Wm. R. King, afterwards Vice-President.

Robert J. Walker, who was destined afterwards to play a great part in politics and finally to go down, out of party and public favor, was one of the Senators from Mississippi. Kentucky was sufficiently honored by having Henry Clay as one of her Senators. It will scarcely seem creditable to the present generation, but it is nevertheless true, that William Allen, lately Governor of Ohio and still hoping that the Presidential lightning may strike him, was a member of the Senate of 1841. Missouri was splendidly represented by that undaunted and fearless old Roman, Tom Benton.

This brief record makes a splendid showing for the Senate of 1841, but the House was hardly less rich in various ability. Beginning with Maine, there was Nathaniel Clifford, now the senior, and universally respected, Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States. There was Wm. Pitt Fesseden, a great lawyer; one of the most dangerous of men to meet in debate, as Douglas found to his cost, and one of the most sagacious leaders of the Republican party. From New Hampshire was that unequalled Democratic campaigner, Edmund Burke. At the head of the Massachusetts delegation was Robert C. Winthrop, afterwards Speaker, who has achieved the difficult task of adding honor and distinction to his family name and is still equal to works of national usefulness. George N. Briggs, afterwards Governor; Caleb Cushing, and Leverett Salstonstall, were among the Massachusetts delegation. But the greatest of all was "the old man eloquent," John Quincy Adams, who thought it no "coming down" for a man who had been President to represent the people in the popular branch of Congress.

Of the New York city delegation in the House, two survivors still remain. One of them, Fernando Wood, is in the House, still, and seems likely to die a Congressman. The other John McKeon, is not in active politics, but is still intellectually vigorous. Among the colleagues of Mr. Wood and Mr. McKeon in the House of 1841 was Millard Fillmore, afterward President, and a strong man in the House; "Prince John" Van Buren, James J. Rooselt; Daniel D. Barnard; Christopher Morgan and Victory Birdseye. The Pennsylvania delegation included at least two very able men—John Sergeant and Charles Ingersoll. The Virginia delegation included Henry A Wise, John Minor Botts, R. M. T. Hunter, A. H. H. Stuart and other men who afterwards acquired at least State fame.

In the North Carolina delegation was Kenneth Raynor, now Solicitor of the Treasury. South Carolina, as usual had more than her share of ready and eloquent debaters, including Isaac E. Holmes, R Barnwell Rhett, F. W. Pickens and William Butler. Of the Georgia delegation the one who afterwards became best known was Thomas Butler King. In the Alabama delegation was that monstreus statesman. Dixon H. Lewis, who could give Judge Davis considerable odds in a weighing match. One of his was George S Houston, who is a member of the present Senate and an able man.

Tennessee was strongly represented by such men as Meredith P. Gentry, Aaron V. Brown, afterwards Postmaster-General, Cave Johnson, also afterwards Postmaster General, and Harvey M. Watterson, father of the brilliant Henry Watterson, of the Louisville Courier-Journal, and now a candidate for the Clerkship of the Senate. From Kentucky were sent—John White, elected Speaker; Linn Boyd, afterwards Speaker; Garrett Davis afterwards Senator; John Pope, the father of Gen. Pope; the brilliant "Tom" Marshall, and other men of force and ability. In the Ohio delegation was Joshua R. Giddings, the pioneer in the great anti-slavery movement that was soon to distract the country. No very noted men were among his colleagues.

Richard W. Thompson, even then famous as the finest orator in Indiana, was the most conspicious member of the Indiana delegation, though probably little expecting that he would ever be Secretary of the Navy. His colleague, Henry S. Lane, afterwards became prominent as Governor, as Senator and as a Republican leader. Altogether, the Congress of 1841 was notable for its material; its great deficiency consisting in the absence of Webster, who was Secretary of State. It does not seem worth while to compare with that Congress the one that is to come together next Tuesday. The country is sufficiently afflicted by its anticipation of what the new Congress will do, without going into any lamentations over the decadence of statesmanship.

The surprise of Rip Van Winkle when awaking from his long slumber, could not have been greater than that of the patient who had been troubled with a bad cough for weeks upon finding himself entirely relieved after a few doses of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup. Price 25 cents.

The Danger of Kerosene Lamps

In view of the fact that Kerosene oil is now so generally used for lights, especially since the rise in the price of gas, the following from a medical journal is particularly worthy of attention. A merchant returned home about 2 o'clock at night and found his wife lying on the bed groaning heavily, and unconscious. She was awaiting his return, and at last tired out, laid herself on the bed, after turning down the wick of a lighted kerosene lamp as low as possible without extinguishing it. In this position of the wick, if the oil is bad, a vapor mixed with an innumerable quanity of specks of sut diffuses itself through the apartment and so covers the eyes, nose and respiratory organs, that on falling asleep one runs the risk of suffocation. It is always advisable, therefore, in the use of kerosene lamps to allow the wick to burn brightly or extinguish it entirely.—Charlotte Observer.

Pratt's Astral oil is absolutely safe under all circumstances. Burns in any lamp without smoke or smell. Julius Lewis & Co., sole agents, Raleigh, N. C.

Democratic Caucus.

WASHINGTON, March 17.—An adjourned caucus of the Democratic Senators was held in the Senate Chamber this afternoon for the purpose of receiving the report of the committee of nine appointed by the caucus of Saturday to prepare Democratic membership of standing committees. The committee announced that the work assigned to them was unfinished and it was resolved to extend their time until to-morrow afternoon immediately after the adjournment of the Senate. Some discussion then occurred with regard to advisability of the proceeding to nominate and ballot for the officers of the Senate. It was generally conceded that there was no need for haste in disposing of that subject and it was therefore agreed to postpone its consideration until Thursday next. Senator Beck offered a resolution providing in the substance that the legislative business of the Senate during the extra session shall be confined to the passage of the two annual appropriation bills which failed of enactment in the last session including the political measures that were incorporated in them by the House of Representatives, viz: Repeal of the Federal election laws and of the jurors test oath and the prohibition against the presence of troops at the polls. After some discussion this resolution and the general subject of the order of business were referred to the following committee with instructions to report to caucus to-morrow or as soon thereafter as practicable. Messrs. Thurman, Saulsbury, Whyte, Kernan, Jones, of Fla., Bailey, Lamar, Voorhees and Vance. All the Democratic Senators were present at to-day's caucus, except Messrs. Gordon, Maxey, and Hampton. Mr. Gordon is ill. Mr. Maxey is expected to arrive from Texas to-night and General Hampton has not yet left South Carolina.

Republican Caucus.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 17.—The Republican members, elect, of the House of Representatives held a caucus in the Hall of the House this p. m. Frye, of Maine was made chairman, and Amos Townsend, of Ohio, Secretary, of the caucus, which thereupon proceeded to nominate candidates in behalf of the Republicans for the various elective officers of the House. The following were nominated unanimously: For Speaker, General Garfield, of Ohio; for Clerk of the House, Ex-Congressman, J. H Ramsey, of South Carolina; for Sergeant at Arms, Gen. Jer. M. Rusk, of Wisconsin; for Doorkeeper, James M. Milton, of Tennessee; for Post Master, Gen. Harvey Sherwood, of Michigan; for Chaplain Dr. Naylor, of the Metropolitan Methodist Episcopal church, Washington City. The following were appointed to act as an advisory committee of the Republican caucus thoroughout the 46th Congress: Representatives Frye, Garfield, Conger, Dunnell, James, Harris Henderson, Harmer and Haskills after discussion as to its form but with practical unanimity in regard to its purpose, it was resolved as the sense of this caucus that no legislation shall be entered upon during this session other than that for which the session was specially called. During the preliminary interchange of views a general desire was expressed for for a short session.

Threatening War.

LONDON, March 16.—In the House of Commons, Friday night, Sir Stafford, of Northcote, replying to inquiry why troops have been sent to British Burmah, read the following telegram from Lord Latton Viceroy, of India, dated March 8th:

The British garrison has been reinforced on the urgent recommendation of the Chief Commissioner, and strong advice of Lieutenant Governor Eden. The British resident at Mandalay has reported that warlike preparations are being made, and that Rumsez are strengthening river ports. There are rumors of disturbance and danger threatening foreigers. A warning comes from well informed quarters that early mischief is intended, and altogether the position of affairs is precarious. The garrison in Burmah was on peace footing and too weak for protection in event of disturbance on the frontier. News of reinforcement will support our residence at Mandalay.

Prospects Better.

LONDON, Feb. 17.—Lahore the correspondent of the Times, telegraphs that a sufficient rain his fallen throughout that province, to insure safety of the spring harvest, thereby entirely altering the financial and political aspect of the situation and affecting even the military, by the facilitating supply of grain and forage.

The Times Calcutta despatch says: The Chief Commissioner for British Burmah now has sufficient force to protect the British Territory, but the position of the resident and other Europeans at Mandalay is critical in the extreme. The best hope for their safety rests on the belief that the king and his advisers are not so utterly lost to all sense of the prudence as to precipitate their own downfall by rushing into hostilities.

Death of Richard Cook Tilghman.

BALTIMORE, March 16—Richard Cook Tilghman, Chief Judge of the Orphan's Court for Green, Ames county is dead, age 72. He was a graduate of West Point, being in the same class with Joe Johnson and Jefferson Davis. At the marriage of Gen. R. E Lee he acted as groomsman.

Was Not Invited.

LONDON, March 16.—A London correspondent of the Edinburg Scatesman says Mr. Gladstone was not invited to the Duke of Cannaughts wedding. This omission excited much comment in political circles, as Lords Granville and Hartington both received invitations.

A Destructive Fire.

NEW ORLEANS, March 17.—A fire in Dryades street destroyed Mrs. Loebs residence; August Marx, dry goods store, McKenah, grocery and Behans coffee and tea depot. Loss estimaeed at $50,000 partly insured in local companies.

Reduction of Wages.

LONDON, March 17.—The Durham coal owners have issued a notice expiring on the 5th of April, of ten per cent. reduction of the wages of the surface workers and 15 per cent of the wages of the underground workers.

Randall Renominated.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—In the Democratic caucus to-night, the first ballot for speaker resulted as follows: Randall, 75; Blackburn 57; McMahon, 3; Morrison, 2; Cox, 4. This insures the nomination of Randall for speaker of the 46th Congress on the first ballot.

The Hutchings Court.

RICHMOND, VA, March 17.—The trial of John E. Poindexter indicted for the murder of young Curtis two weeks since commenced in the Hustings Court to-day, Only three jurors were obtained from the venire and court adjourned till Thursday when an effort will be made to complete the jury from the tales of one hundred ordered to be summoned for that day. Mrs. Bacciagalupo, who received numerous stabs at the hands of her husband Saturday night is still in a critical condition Her husband was brought before the police court this morning but his examination was postponed ten days to await the result of her wounds.

Virginia State Debt.

RICHMOND, VA, March 17.—The Senate bill providing for the settlement of the State debt was further discussed in the House to-day, and an effort was made to fix a time for taking a final vote on the bill was defeated, there being four votes less than the necessary two-thirds. It is expected that the bill will pass this week.

Foreign News.

LONDON, March 17 —The Paris correspondent of the Daily News says it is universally believed that Mr. Waddington cannot remain Premier and it is improbable that he will consent to remain in any lower capacity. Mr. Faumier is mentioned as his successor. Mr. Leon says he must certainly resign.

Weston Challenges Rowell.

NEW YORK, March 17.—A letter from Weston, the American pedestrian, to Sir John Astley is published, challenging Rowell to contest the championship with him.

A Steamer Burned.

WILMINGTON, N. C. March 17.—The steam yacht Elizabeth, from New York to Charleston stranded in Rich Inlet and took fire, and was totally burned. The crew are safe.

The Celebrated Seven Springs Iron and Alum Mass

This is decidedly the most useful, besides being the most effient Family Medicine ever placed within the reach of any people. Its reputation extends far and wide, and its great popularity is due entirely to its own merits. For relieving Sick and Nervous Headache it may be truly said, to have no equal. Dyspeptics find it just the remedy for their troubles. Mothers and daughters have long since discovered in its use a "panacea" for their worst ills; and now we have the testimonies of two eminent ministers of the gospel, from Southern cities, setting forth its specific effects in other more dreaded and troublesome diseases.

Rev. John F. Mayne, Theological Seminary, Columbia, S. C., writes: "Am afflicted with that terrible disease, 'Diabetis;' am using the 'Seven Springs Mass' with considerable degree of relief; is the only remedy I have yet found to suit my case; want to continue its use until a cure is effected if possible. Send worth of the enclosed P. O. order immediately.

Unheard of Bargains!

AT THE INDEFATIGABLE ENDEAVORS TO PLEASE THE PUBLIC. SO HERE GOES.

Ye muses nine, inspire my pen,
To sing of Fayetteville streeet, No 10,
who tries his best to please his friends
And in his labors never ends,
Bargains he'll give you when you call
For No. 10 is all and all.
Of other houses you hear them talk;
In Fayetteville street just take a walk
And only ask for No. 10,
Kept by the most ingenious of men,
And when his friends by chance drop in
Then forth he comes, Lord what a grin,
And to their wondering eyes displays
Such heaps of brackets and window shades.
His pictures are exposed to public view
And a variety of cord to suspend them too,
His looking glasses and toilet cases
Will help adorn your forms and faces;
Picture frames and mouldings too
In great variety, black, brown and blue.
His window cornices and lambrequins fine,
will make your rooms and parlor shine.
Perforated mottoes, and white holly baskets.
And every other sort of stuff,
Of which he hopes to have enough.
So now he bids your all adieu
And wishes a happy new year too.
And not forget

Our country is getting to be fearfully alarming, the average of life being lessened every year, without any reasonable cause, death resulting generally from the most insignificant origin. At this season of the year especially, a cold is such a common thing that in the hurry of every day life we are apt to overlook the dangers attending it and often find too late that a fever or lung trouble has already set in. Thousands lose their lives in this way every winter, while had Boschee's German Syrup been taken, a cure would have resulted, and a large bill from a doctor been avoided. For all diseases of the throat and lungs, Boschee's German Syrup has proven itself to be the greatest discovery of its kind in medicine. Every Druggist in this country will tell you of its wonderful effect. Over 950,000 bottles sold last year without a single failure known.

Rescued, Restored, Revived.

It is marvellous how the rounded outlines of the form are restored, the pale and sallow cheek vivified with the ruddy hue of health; the muscular fibre braced and strengthened, the nervous system and the brain toned and invigorated, by the steady use of Scott's Emulsion of Pure Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda. It is by far the most elegant and effective preparation in the whole catalogue of medicines, and in the disorders indicated by scrofula, consumption chronic coughs, and the various forms of debility, it is a wonderful remedy. It is also deprived of all its disagreeable properties, and as sweet and palatable as cream. feb 14 1p

A Remedy that has been Remedied.

The invincible repugnance felt by almost every one to the smell and flavor of Cod Liver Oil, has prevented tens of thousands of the victims of debility, from reaping the benefits of its peculiar healing and nutritive properties. The almost hopeless consumptive, the martyr to Rheumatism, the barely living shadow of men, women and children that emerge from the clutches of malarial fevers, all of these know, or at least their doctors know, that of all discovered remedies, this Oil is the best, and often the only one that will build up their wasted bodies, and and restore their shattered nerves, and far more effective than the Oil by itself is Scott's Emulsion of it, with the Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda. This is the finest and most natural food and medicine in the world, and wholly deprived of its disagreeable qualities. Sold by Wm. Simpson, Druggist. March 4-d&w3w

FROM A PROMINENT VETERINARY SURGEON.

Mr. Wm M. GILES, Chemist, Sir: I have practiced extensively in Europe and America, and your new discovery, Liniment Iodide of Ammonia, surpasses anything I ever used for splints, strains, lameness in the limbs or shoulders, weakness across the kidneys, wind galls, and hard, bony swellings on the joints. It is truly marvelous.

Yours very truly,
RALPH OGLE,
Veterinary Surgeon. 330 W. 25th St., N. Y.
